About

Hi there! I'm a passionate designer and aspiring web developer with a strong foundation in UI/UX design. I'm skilled in Figma, and I'm currently learning HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. My recent project involved designing a responsive website for a local business, where I focused on creating a clean and intuitive user interface. I'm drawn to minimalist design and enjoy exploring the intersection of art and technology. Let's work together to create exceptional digital experiences!
